NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.
He respectfully refers to the following
CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. H. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.

It fastens without bolt or screw, and is therefore easily and speedily separated. It rests on Cattle Porche[illegible], so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs the nerves. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongues may be detached in an instant, and is convenient and secure.

It is easy to change to this style of coupling [illegible] buggy or other vehicle [illegible] and will [illegible]. We have [illegible] use this new invention, and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent [illegible].

EASTERN DATES TO JANUARY 5

From Washington—Contemplated Army Changes

WASHINGTON, Jan 4.—The first reg[illegible] meeting [illegible] Cabinet [illegible] was held to-day. All the members were present.

A [illegible] the [illegible] yesterday several [illegible] were in [illegible] with their parents.

Minister [illegible] received his first [illegible] from the State Department [illegible] New York [illegible].

Considerable uneasiness is felt in army circles concerning the [illegible] assignment of officers who have been for years on duty in different bureaus of the War Department will be sent to posts in the west, while many now serving on the frontiers and at other stations will be assigned to duty in this locality. It is probable that the orders to effect these changes will be issued before the 1st of April, as the Department [illegible] have been instructed to report the names of officers for transfer by the 1st of March. This delay in issuing the order is owing to the fact that a number of the officers here will require time to arrange their private business and make proper arrangements for the change of station.

Criminals Sentenced

BINGHAMTON, Jan 4.—The trial of James Dewitt and Kitty Blanchard for the murder of the husband of the latter last April was called to-day. The prisoners plead guilty of manslaughter in the third degree. Dewitt was sentenced to four years hard labor in Auburn and the woman to the Penitentiary in Syracuse for three years.

A Case Involving the Validity of an Indiana Divorce

BOSTON, Jan 4.—In the matter of the petition before the Probate Court of Middlesex county from Harriet M. Shannon claiming to be the widow of Oliver M. Shannon, late of Newton, and desiring to be appointed administratrix of the estate, which it is understood amounts to $250,000, opposition was made that the petitioner was divorced from her late husband under the laws of the State of Indiana. The petition alleges that this divorce is invalid under the laws of this State and she claims to be able to show that one or more judicial decisions had been made in her favor personally, by the Supreme Court of this State.

From New York

NEW YORK, Jan 4.—The Panama papers were first received per steamer California at Mobile. There is little news. A rumor at Lima says the United States steamer Hyo[illegible] has gone to the Gallipago Islands with the intention to take formal possession in the name of the United States.

The Post Office Department has made permanent arrangements with the Bremen line to carry an English mail to Southampton and a German mail to Bremen on Saturdays. The Hamburg line will continue for the present to carry the French mail every Saturday, while the Williams & Guyon line will carry the mails from Queenstown every Saturday.

E. C. Oilfield, a wholesale liquor dealer residing at No. 198 Maiden Lane and Rectifier in the Second District of Brooklyn, was arrested yesterday on a charge of having defrauded the Government out of a large amount of money.

A fire occurred this morning on Fulton street, Brooklyn, in a house occupied as a furnishing store; damage to the building and stock to the amount of $12,000; insured.

Application is made to Judge Cardozo, by a Cincinnati merchant, Josephs, who is brought here by a requisition under three indictments for obtaining goods under false pretences from New York merchants, by habeas corpus, to be admitted to bail. District Attorney Garvin, in resisting the motion, said the habit of men in desperate circumstances, coming on to New York and purchasing large bills of goods, was carried to such an extent that the losses in New York from it, were from $1,500,000 to $5,000,000 per annum. The Court reserved its decision, remanding the prisoner meantime.

It is reported that the Junta got off last week quietly, a large propeller for Cuba, and that they have another about ready to sail. Rumor adds that 800 men go on the Quaker City.

Judge Bedford, in the Blatchford case, to-day charged the grand jury to wield their power fearlessly and impartially in order to aid the authorities in their honest endeavors to stem the current of the daring and reckless action of bad and unprincipled men, so as to teach them in emphatic terms that crimes cannot be committed here with impunity, and if they persist in their lawlessness that they will be made to taste the bitter fruits of their misdeeds and be held to the stern letter of the law.

The failure of Hugh N. Camp & Co., sugar refiners, is announced to-day. Liabilities chiefly in this city, amounting to $640,000. Universal sympathy is expressed for the firm and merchants promptly came forward with liberal offers of money. The firm, however, did not feel justified in accepting financial aid.

NEW YORK, Jan 5.—Irene Logan, formerly known in connection with the mysterious Twelfth street murder as Irene Logan number two, was shot through the heart by Jerry Dunn, alias Hawkshaw, a notorious ruffian, on Houston street this morning.

The thirteen Spanish gunboats which have been lying at quarantine for over 10 days past are preparing for sea, and will take their departure for Havana to-day. The crews for the different vessels are actively engaged in preparing for sea.

There are rumors to-day of other mercantile failures.

Another strange tragedy is reported this morning in one of the most elegant mansions in Fifth Avenue, a few doors from 26th street. Last night a young man named Jas. B. Pell, son of R. L. Pell, committed suicide by cutting his throat from ear to ear with a razor. The alleged cause of the dreadful deed was grief for the death of a favorite brother who died more than a year ago. Further investigation may develop other reasons.

The telegraph operators of thirty-four principal cities are now on a strike on account of alleged reduction of the wages of two operators in San Francisco. Nearly all the operators, male and female, in this city have joined the strike. Business has not stopped, but is only retarded.

The sale of pews for Beecher's church has opened, amounting to $57,000, a considerable increase over last year.

The Western Union Telegraph operators struck yesterday afternoon, nearly all leaving work. The company say there is no ground in the fact charged for the strike, and that no salaries have been reduced; that they can permit no combination or organization of men to dictate who or how many persons they shall employ; that they approve the action of Mumford in reply to the propositions of the operators, that members and telegraphers of the organization who had already stopped work might be restored to their former positions in the company, which he declined to [illegible] for want of official knowledge. The telegraph operators in every part have struck, but the force on hand is enough to perform the service. The operators last night adopted a card to their brethren throughout the country asking unity of action.

The World's Japan correspondent writes that Russia has seized some of the northern islands of the Japanese Empire. The belief prevails that it is the intention of the Czar to ultimately absorb the entire country.

The grave clothes and vestures of the victims of the Elizabeth street tragedy yesterday. At the Coroner's inquest held this morning, the sister of Mrs. Almegro, Mrs. Lock, the doctor, [illegible] and the police officers who broke in the door of the fatal chamber were examined, but no new developments further than [illegible] published have been elicited. The verdict of the jury was in accordance with these facts, and the body of Mrs. Almegro was delivered to her relatives for interment. That of her murderer and suicide lies rotting in the morgue, no one having come forward to claim it.

The Croton department received during the year for Croton water and penalties $1,7[illegible], being an increase of $1,715,[illegible]. Preliminary steps toward laying the foundation of the Brooklyn tower for the East River bridge were taken yesterday morning at upper slip, Fulton Ferry. It is intended to have it [illegible] for the reception of the [illegible] of March.

Hon. Hovey, U. S. Minister to Peru, and Thos. E. Perry, U. S. Consul at Aspinwall, will sail to-day in the Arizona.

New York Legislature—Message of Gov. Hoffman

ALBANY, Jan. 4.—The Legislature [illegible] the Senate [illegible]. [illegible] offered [illegible] and denouncing the course of the Administration [illegible]. The Governor's Message was read. It [illegible] the State debt [illegible] the sinking fund [illegible] the [illegible] considerable space to the canals. He urges such legislation as will secure cheap transportation, speaks of the project of [illegible] system, and invites attention to [illegible] the charities. [illegible] ministers [illegible] the Legislature [illegible] uniform [illegible] laws and the amendment of [illegible] legislation. The conspiracy statute [illegible] and he asks for a law forbidding [illegible] and receivers [illegible] ex parte proceedings. He asks for the revision of the apprentice laws and for uniformity in the registry and election laws. A revision of the criminal law he says is desirable, and he recommends the repeal of the excise law. The Governor protests against the action of Congress toward the States lately in rebellion, and against the tariff. He discourses at length on specie payments, currency, etc., and remarks that when the Federal Treasury is ready to redeem its legal tender promises in gold as fast as the public are likely to present them, specie payments are thereby resumed all over the country without further effort on the part of any one, and without inconvenience to the people.

ALBANY, Jan. 5.—The Senate to-day adopted Mr. Tweed's resolution repealing the resolution adopting the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, by a vote of 16 against 15. The resolutions were subsequently adopted by the Assembly, 65 against 6.

In the Assembly the resolutions on the reduction of canal duties going west and requesting representatives to vote for the repeal of import duties on coal, referred to a select committee.

A resolution of sympathy with Cuba was tabled and ordered printed.

Governor Geary's Message

HARRISBURG, Jan. 5.—Governor Geary's message was sent in at noon. He congratulated the Legislature on the prosperity of the State Treasury during the year. The receipts were $5,241,000; expenditures $4,885,000, including $472,000 expended toward the reduction of the public debt, leaving a balance in the Treasury of $1,400,000. The total amount of the State debt is $32,814,000.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 5.—Gov. Geary in his message delivered to the Legislature to-day recommended the establishment of a home for disabled soldiers as a refuge for those now compelled to beg in the streets. The Avondale disaster was referred to, and a law recommended forcing stringent regulations to prevent the re-occurrence of such calamities. It deprecates the efforts of free traders to obtain the introduction of steel and iron free of duty, favors the recognition of Cuba, and says it geographically belongs to the United States, and advocates the expansion of the currency by new National Banks to be established where none now exist.

The Virginia Admission Question

CHICAGO, Jan 5.—The Tribune's Washington special says parties interested have been sounding the President on the Virginia question, and report him as standing squarely to what he said in his message, namely, that the State ought to be admitted at once. Reasons grow stronger every day for believing, however, that she will not get in this month without a hard struggle, if at all. Some of the persons who testified for admission before the Reconstruction Committee, have changed their evidence while going through the Government printing office, so that it is now unsatisfactory, and the latest advices are that a majority of the committee will require further pledges from the State before reporting for admission.

The furniture in the Mayor's office here was levied on and carried away by constables to-day, to be sold in a short time for debt due by the city to an individual, and there was a nice row about the matter.

A Louisiana Squabble

The fight between Collector Casey and the Louisiana delegation is getting lively. They charge among other things that he runs the Custom House on a Democratic basis; that he has violated the law in appointing men to positions who are of his kinds; that some of these men are secret partners with the Custom House brokers; that the pay of the clerks are withheld so that these brokers can buy up certificates at a large discount, and that the [illegible] department is the only one in the whole institution that is fairly and honestly managed.

Union and Central Pacific Railroad Junction

The act fixing the Junction of the Union and Central Pacific Railroads says it shall be at or near Ogden, but the officers of the two roads have not yet determined upon the exact point where it shall be made, nor where the repair and machine shops shall be erected. [illegible] this [illegible] settled which the roads will [illegible] bal[illegible] [illegible] $ 60,000 [illegible].

Senate Committee Work

The Senate Finance Committee were to meet for business this week, but present appearances are that there will not be enough members here to do anything. The only indication of a financial character is that Boutwell's idea of withdrawing and redeeming the three per cent certificates will be favorably considered.

The St. Thomas Treaty

Statements are published here to-day which render it certain that the present Administration is for the ratification of the St. Thomas treaty. United States members hold that the national honor requires this course, and that to reject it would be unjust to Denmark. It is also held that we had better have all three of the islands instead of two, and the President so expresses himself in conversation on the subject.

The attention of the Government was called to the existence of this organization six months ago by United States officers in this district.

Yesterday and to-day there is not only a full force of first class operators on duty, but the Superintendent of this district has men to spare who will go to any point where their services are needed. The strikers publish a card to-day handling the telegraph company severely, charging them with a design to reduce salaries generally, and thereby make the operators bear a portion of the cost of the war between themselves and opposition companies. Privately the strikers acknowledge that their action was premature, but the step being taken they will stand it regardless of consequence.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—The situation of affairs relative to the telegraph strike, continues unchanged. The office here is supplied with a full force of operators and is continually receiving new applications for situations. The officers of the company are entirely confident of their ability to fill the places of all strikers with competent men, and declare their intention to re-employ none of those engaged in the movement.

FRIDAY MORNING, JANUARY 7, 1870.

City Affairs The Mayor's Message

The message of Mayor Goldsmith, delivered to the City Council Wednesday evening, contains beside the favorable showing of the city's financial condition, several suggestions which, it seems to us, are important.

The assessment of property liable to be taxed is always a matter of some difficulty, and unequal assessments are of frequent occurrence. Assessors are not always chosen with a strict view to their qualifications for the office, and consequently it is not uncommon to find that blunders have been made in the valuation returns, and that property has not been equitably assessed. The property holders of Portland have not, by any means, been exempt from such evils. The remedy for unjust assessments at present, is an appeal, within a certain time, to the City Council. It is scarcely an adequate remedy, and sometimes it happens that it is no remedy at all. The recommendation of the Mayor that steps be taken to procure an amendment to the charter providing for the creation of a Board of Equalization, is a good one. Such a Board need not be expensive, and its creation would greatly simplify the means of correcting mistakes and unfair assessments.

In regard to an increase of the police force and a revision of our police regulations, the Mayor is unquestionably correct. The ordinances are not only crude in system but they are insufficient in respect to the authority they give the Marshal and his deputies. We doubt if there be a city on the coast which has so inconsiderable a police force in proportion to population, as ours. Considering the nature and numbers of our floating population, three officers for day service and four or at most six, for night service, is altogether inadequate to ensure that degree of safety to life and property which every city government owes to its people. The Marshal, two deputies and four special policemen constitute the entire force for both day and night service. It is impossible for such a force to keep proper surveillance of a city of such proportions. The number should be increased to at least ten.

The recommendation that the Council provide in due time for a public market and city hall, is one that should be acted upon at an early day. A market house especially, is one of the great present needs of the city.

The suggestion that measures should be taken to effect the vacation of Main street between Third and Fourth (for so we understand the message) will meet with a hearty affirmative response from perhaps nine-tenths of the people. If the original dedication makes a street through the Plaza, the Council has for years acted unwisely in not procuring legislative authority to vacate such street. If the Plaza can yet be saved, the people at large will be grateful to the man or means that will accomplish it.

In relation to quarantine matters, the observance of strict economy in administration and close scrutiny of claims against the city, the suggestions of the message will meet with general approval. Altogether, though it is quite an unpretentious document, it is a sensible and practical one, and the Council cannot well do better than to act upon the general policy it recommends.

Editorial Notes.

Gov. Hoffman's legal opinion (see telegraphic synopsis of his message) that "when the Federal Treasury is ready to redeem its legal tender promises as fast as the public are likely to present them, specie payments are thereby resumed," etc., is a piece of wisdom which would have done honor to the head of Capt. Bunsby. It is a "chunk" most decidedly.

One of the Illinois papers expresses the opinion that the beginning of the State Constitutional Convention does not augur well for the final economic results. At the recess, one of the clerks purchased a ten dollar trunk, filled it with one hundred dollars worth of the State's stationery and took it home with him as baggage. One hundred dollars' worth of stationery at the first dash may be set down as a pretty good steal.

The Owyhee Tidal Wave says: "The [Idaho] World is particularly severe on Senator Williams for changing election day in Idaho and Washington Territories so as to cause it to fall on the same day with the Oregon election." Well, the law will operate rather to the disadvantage of the Democracy. They will have to rise very early and "hustle" around very sharp on election day, if they succeed in getting in many votes in both Oregon and Idaho, or Oregon and Washington Territory. The law is terribly restrictive of the old Democratic custom of voting at every election in both jurisdictions. For instance, it will be nearly impossible to colonize two hundred men from Washington Territory, at Portland, to vote the Democratic ticket, as was once done; and Portland can't send back in return of the obligation, two hundred men to vote at Vancouver, Cowlitz, Cascades, etc. Hereafter, it will hardly be worth while for the Democrats of Washington Territory to hold their ratification meetings in the streets of Portland, as was done last year. The Democratic stock in trade can't be used on both sides of the Columbia.

The Alabama Claims.

THE NATURE OF THE CONTROVERSY STATED BY SECRETARY FISH.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—The President has sent the Alabama claims correspondence to the Senate, in accordance with the resolution of Mr. Sumner. The following is a synopsis of Secretary Fish's letter to Mr. Motley, September 15, 1869:

Mr. Fish continues with a lengthy statement of the acts and events which disturbed the otherwise amicable relations of the two Governments, commencing with the precipitate and unfriendly concession by the British Government, in May, 1861, of belligerent rights to the insurgents, and continued by the permission for the fitting out of armed cruisers against the merchant ships of the United States, many of which were destroyed by the captors who had no ports of their own in which to refit or condemn prizes, and whose only nationality was the quarter deck. The number of our ships thus directly destroyed amount to nearly 200, and the value of property destroyed to many millions. Indirectly the effect was to increase the rate of insurance in the United States, to diminish exports and imports, and otherwise obstruct domestic industry and production, and to take away from the United States its immense foreign commerce and to transfer this to the merchant vessels of Great Britain; thus in effect the war against the United States was carried on from the ports of Great Britain by British subjects in the name of the Confedrates. On the land it was in like manner the munitions of war and the wealth drawn by the insurgents from Great Britain, which enabled them to withstand, year after year, the arms of the United States. In the midst of all this the remonstrances of the Government of the United States were prompt, earnest and persistent; the Queen's ministers excused themselves by alleged defects in the municipal law of the country; learned counsel either adduced that the wrongs committed did not constitute a violation of the municipal law, or gave sanction to the artful devices of deceit to cover up such violations of law, and, strange to say, the courts of England, or of Scotland, up to the very highest, were occupied, month after month, with technicalities of statute constructions in this respect, with the Queen's Government itself, including the omnipotent Parliament, which might have settled these questions in one hour by appropriate legislation, sat with folded arms, unmindful of its international obligations, and suffered ship after ship to be constructed in its ports to wage war on the United States. We hold that the international duty of the Queen's Government in this respect was above and independent of the municipal laws of England. It was a sovereign duty attaching to Great Britain as a sovereign power. The municipal law was but a means of repressing or punishing individual wrong doers. The law of nations was the true and proper rule of duty for the Government. If the municipal laws were defective, that was a domestic inconvenience, of concern only to the local government, and for it to remedy or not, by suitable legislation as it pleased, but no sovereign power can rightly plead the defect of its own domestic penal statutes as a justification or in extenuation of an international wrong done to another sovereign power. When the defects of the existing laws of Parliament had become apparent, the Government of the United States earnestly entreated the Queen's Ministers to provide the required remedy, as it would have been easy to do, by a proper act of Parliament, but this the Queen's Government refused. The United States, at an early day in their history, had set the example of repressing violations of neutrality to the prejudice of Great Britain, by their own authority, and in the discharge of their own national duty, without waiting for the assistance of municipal statute, they afterward enacted such statutes for their own convenience and as an attestation of their good faith toward other nations, and on special occasions, where defects were perceived in such cases, we enacted new ones to meet the case, not deeming that such legislation was derogatory to our public dignity, but on the contrary conceiving that, in so doing, we best consulted the highest dictates of national dignity, self respect, and public honor; and if Great Britain had so understood her national duty on this occasion, she would have done much to save the two countries from the present controversy, and all its possible consequences. The common law of England is the common law of the United States. In both countries, and certainly in England, revenue seizures are made daily, and ships prevented from going to sea on much less cause of suspicion than attached to the suspected ships of the Confederates. In both countries, and not less in England, the previous order of the Government for its subsequent approval, covers the acts of the subordinate officers of both countries, or if not in England, assuredly in the United States, under the municipal laws, the Government finds no difficulty in arresting ships charged with actual or intended violations of sovereign rights or neutral duties of the States; signal examples of this occur in the history of the United States.

Note—The arrest of the bark Henry during the Russian war is stated as one case in point, but although such acts of violation of law were frequent in Great Britain, and susceptible of complete technical proof, notoriously flaunted directly in the face of the world, varnished over, if at all, with the shallowest pretexts of deception, yet no efficient step appears to have been taken by the British Government to enforce the execution of its municipal laws, or to vindicate the majesty of its outraged sovereign power, and the Government of the United States cannot believe it would conceive itself wanting in respect for Great Britain to impute that the Queen's Minister's are so much hampered by judicial difficulties, that the local administration is thus reduced to such a state of legal impotency as to deprive the Government of the capacity to uphold its sovereignty against local wrong-doers, or its neutrality as regards other sovereign powers; if that indeed were so, the cause of reclamation on the part of the United States would only be the more positive and sure, for the laws of nations assumes that each government is capable of discharging its international obligations, and perchance if it be not, then the absence of such capability is itself a specific ground of responsibility for the consequences, but the Queen's Government would not be content to admit, nor will the Government of the United States presume to impute to it, such political organization of the British Empire as to imply any want of legal ability on its part to discharge, in the amplest manner, all its duties of sovereignty and amity toward other powers.

It remains only in this relation to refer to one other point, namely, the question of negligence and neglect on the part of officers of the British Government, whether superior or subordinate, to detain the Confederate cruisers, and especially the Alabama; on this point the President conceives little needs now to be said, for various cogent reasons; first, the matter has been exhaustively discussed by the Departments, or by successive American Ministers. If the question of negligence be discussed with frankness, it must be treated in this instance as a case of extreme negligence, which Sir Wm. Jones has taught us to regard as equivalent or approximate to civil intention. The question of negligence, therefore, cannot be presented without danger of thought or language, disrespectful toward the Queen's ministers, and the President, while purposing, of course, as his sense of duty requires, to sustain the rights of the United States in all their amplitude, yet intends to speak and act in relation to Great Britain in the same spirit of international respect which he expects from her in relation to the United States, and he is sincerely desirous that all discussions between the Governments may be so conducted as not only to prevent any aggravation of existing difficulties, but to tend to such reasonable and amicable determination as best becomes two great nations of common origin, and conscious dignity and strength. I assume, therefore, pretermitting detailed discussion in this respect, that the negligence of the officers of the British Government in the matter of the Alabama, at least, was gross and inexcusable and such as indisputably to devolve on that Government a full responsibility for all the depredations committed by her; indeed, this conclusion seems in effect to be conceded in Great Britain. At all events the United States conceives that the proofs of responsible negligence in the matter are so clear that no room remains for debate on that point, and it should be taken for granted in all future negotiations with Great Britain. It is impossible not to compare and contrast the conduct of the States generally, as regards Great Britain, on the occasion of the revolt of the British Colonies, with that of Great Britain, as regards the insurrection in the Southern States. No fleets were fitted out by America in the ports of the Netherlands to prey on the commerce of Great Britain. Only in a single instance did American cruisers have temporary harborage in the Texel. Year after year the export of the munitions of war from the Netherlands was forbidden by the States General, the more completely to fulfill the duty of amity and neutrality toward Great Britain, but, nevertheless, Great Britain treated a declaration of neutrality by the States General, and the observance of that declaration, as sufficient cause of war against the Netherlands—prior to which the British Government continually complained at the occasional supplies derived by the colonies from the Island of St. Eustatius. How light, in this respect, would have been the burdens of the United States during the late insurrection if British aid had been confined to a contraband commerce between the insurgents and the port of Nassau; not such as the complaint of the United States against Great Britain; we complain that the insurrection in the Southern States, if it did not exist, was continued and obtained its enduring vitality, by means of the resources it drew from Great Britain. We complain that by reason of the imperfect discharge of its neutral duties on the part of the Queen's Government, Great Britain became the military, naval and financial basis of the insurgent warfare against the United States. We complain of the destruction of our merchant marine by British ships, manned by British seaman, armed with British guns, dispatched from British dockwards, sheltered and harbored in British ports. We complain that, by reason of the policy and the acts of the Queen's ministers, injury incalculable was inflicted on the United States; nevertheless the United States manfully and resolutely encountered all the great perils and difficulties of the situation, foreign and domestic, and overcame them; we endured, with proud patience, the manifestation of hostility where we had expected friendship—in England; after the proclamation of the abolition of negro servitude, in order to perpetuate which the Southern States had seceded from the Union, we entered on a great war, involving sea and land. We marched to the field hundreds of thousands of soldiers and expended thousands of millions in treasure for their support; we lavished the blood of our bravest and best in battle as if it were water; we submitted to all privations without a murmur; we staked our lives, our fortunes, and our honor on the issue of the combat, and, by the blessing of God, we came out of a deadly struggle victorious and with courage proved, strength unimpaired, power augmented, and our place fixed among the nations second to none, we may, without presumption, say in the civilized world. Providence had smiled on our exertions, and in the hour of supreme trial we felt that while mindful of the good will shown us by friendly powers in our hour of trial, we could afford to account in moderation with others which, like Great Britain, had, as we thought, speculated imprudently and to their own discomfiture on the unexpected dismemberment and downfall of the great American republic. As to Great Britain, we had special and grave causes of grief. She had, prematurely, as we deemed it, and without adequate reason, awarded statutes of belligerency to the insurgents, cut he act of itself, and by its incidental nature and conditions, and that which, however we might condemn it in particular cases, we could not deny to be of the competency of a sovereign State. Other European governments also recognized the belligerency of the insurgents, but Great Britain had stated a measure, indefinite of itself, to one of wrong to the United States, as evidenced by the constant and efficient aid in ships and munitions of war which was furnished to the Confederates, and as the permission or negligence which enabled the Confederate cruisers from their ports to ply on the commerce of the United States. Great Britain alone had founded, on that recognition, a systematic maritime war against the United States, and thus to effect the establishment of a slave government as to which, Mr. Bright might well say, "We supply the ships, we supply the arms, the munitions of war, we gave aid and comfort to the foulest of crimes; Englishmen only do it."

After a further discussion of the subject, Mr. Fish says the President, in addition to those general reasons, he thinks the provisions of the convention were inadequate to provide reparation for the United States in the manner and to the degree which he considered the United States entitled to redress; other and special reasons, for the same conclusions, have been explained in a previous dispatch—such, namely, as the time and circumstances of the negotiation, the complex character of the proposed arbitration, its chance, agency and results, and its failure to determine any principle, or otherwise to fix on a stable foundation the forms of two governments. The President is not yet prepared to pronounce on the question of the indemnities which he thinks were due by Great Britain to individual citizens of the United States, for the destruction of their property by rebel cruisers, fitted out in the ports of Great Britain, nor is he now prepared to speak of the reparation which he thinks is due by the British Government for the larger account of the vast national injuries it has inflicted on the United States; nor does he attempt now to measure the relative effect of the various causes of injury by the untimely recognition of belligerency, by suffering the fitting out of rebel cruisers, or by the supply of ships, arms, and munitions of war to the Confederates, or otherwise, in whatever manner; nor does it fall in the scope of this dispatch to discuss the important changes in the rules of the public law, the desirableness of which has been demonstrated by the incidents of the last few years, now under consideration and which, in view of the maritime power of the commerce of Great Britain and the United States, it would be fit for them to mature and propose to the other States of Christendom. All these are subjects of future consideration which, when the time for action shall arrive, the President will consider. With a sincere and earnest desire that all differences between the two nations may be adjusted amicably and compatibly with the honor of each, and the promotion of future peace between them, to which end he will spare no efforts within the range of supreme duty to the right and interest of the United States; at the present stage of the controversy the sole object of the President is to state the position and maintain the attitude of the United States on the various relations and aspects of this grave controversy with Great Britain. It is the object of this paper, which you are at liberty to read to Lord Clarendon, to state, calmly and dispassionately, and with a more unreserved freedom that might be used in one addressed directly to the Queen's Government, what this Government sincerely considers the injuries it has suffered; it is not written in the nature of a claim, for the United States now make no demand against Her Majesty's Government on account of injuries they feel they have sustained, although the United States are anxious for a settlement on a liberal and comprehensive basis of all the questions which now conflict with the entire cordial relations which they desire to exist between the two Governments, they do not now propose or desire to set any time for this settlement, on the contrary they prefer to leave that question, and also the more important questions of the means and mode removing the causes of complaint, and of restoring the much desired regulations of perfect cordiality and the preventing of the probability of like questions in the future, to the consideration of Her Majesty's Government; they will, however, be ready whenever Her Majesty's Government shall think the proper time has come for renewed negotiations, to entertain any proposition that that Government shall think proper to present, and to apply to such propositions their earnest and sincere wish and endeavors for a solution honorable and satisfactory to both countries. Your obedient servant. HAMILTON FISH.

In another dispatch Mr. Fish renews the statement that the President hopes the British Government will be willing to conduct the discussion at Washington, promising their views will be carefully considered. Mr. Motley, on Oct. 16th, reports having received the long dispatch of Sept. 25, to Earl Clarendon, who asked for, and was furnished with a copy. Nothing could be more frank and conciliating than his Lordship's manner, nor more earnest than his assurances of the desire of Her Majesty's Government for a cordial and peaceful relation with the United States.

LORD CLARENDON TO MINISTER THORNTON.

Earl Claredon, writing Nov. 6th, to Mr. Thornton, says: "I have recited at length the concluding passages of Mr. Fish's dispatch, because they express many sentiments which Her Majesty's Government most cordially and sincerely reciprocate. The Government of Her Majesty, equally with the Government of the United States, earnestly desire that all differences between the two nations may be adjusted amicably and compatibly with the honor of each, and that all causes of future differences between them may be prevented, and they would heartily co operate with the Government of the United States in laying down as between themselves, and recommending for adoption by other maritime nations, such principles of maritime law as might obviate the recurrence of similar causes of differences between them, and it is because they earnestly desire to hasten the period at which these important objects may be accomplished, that her Majesty's Government have determined, not to follow Mr. Fish through the recapitulation of the various points that have been designated in the voluminous correspondence that has taken place between the two Governments for several years. Her Majesty's Government had indeed hoped that, by the conventions which, under the instructions to his Government and with their full and deliberate concurrence, Mr. Reverdy Johnson signed with me on the 4th of January of the present year, all correspondence between the two Governments had been brought to an end, and that all matters in dispute would be referred for settlement to a dispassionate tribunal. With a view to that result Her Majesty's Government had, in some degree departed from the deliberate convictions and declared resolves; they agreed to the mode of settlement proposed by the United States Government, which was more than once in the course of that negotiation modified to meet the wishes of that Government, but they did so willingly, because they thought the restoration of a good understanding between Great Britain and the United States might well be purchased by concessions kept within bounds, and not inconsistent with the honor of this country. Her Majesty's Government learned, with deep concern, that the Senate of the United States, in exercise of the powers unquestionably conferred upon it by the Constitution, repudiated the acts of the Government, under whose authority the convention was concluded, and by rejecting had left open the whole controversy between the two countries, and had indefinitely prolonged the uncertainty attendant on such a state of things. Her Majesty's Government regrets no less sincerely that the President of the United States concurs with the Senate in disapproving of that treaty, but their regret would, in some degree, diminish if Mr. Fish had been authorized to indicate some other means of adjusting questions between the two countries, which, as long as they remain open, cannot be favorable to a cordial, good understanding between them. This, however, Mr. Fish has not been empowered to do, but he expresses readiness of the President to consider any proposition emanating from this country. It is obvious, however, and Mr. Fish will probably, on reflection, admit, that Her Majesty's Government cannot make any new proposition, or run the risk of an other unsuccessful negotiation, till they have information more clearly than that which is contained in Mr. Fish's dispatch respecting the basis on which the Government would be disposed to negotiate, but Her Majesty's Government fully agree with Mr. Fish in considering that it would be desirable to turn the difficulties which have arisen between the two Governments to good account, by making the solution of them subservient to their adoption, as between themselves, in the first instance, of such changes in the public law as may prevent the recurrence, between nations that may concur in them, of similar difficulties hereafter. You may assure Mr. Fish that Her Majesty's Government will be ready to co operate with the Government of the United States for so salutary a result, which would redound to the mutual honor of both countries, and if accepted by other maritime nations, have an important influence toward maintaining the peace of the world. You will hand this dispatch to Mr. Fish, and give him a copy of it if he should desire to have one. CLARENDON.

Miss Jennie James, of Boston, gave a $10,000 levee the other night. Ten years ago her father worked in a coopershop for $1 a day.

THE DAILY OREGONIAN.

FRIDAY MORNING, JANUARY 7, 1870.

CITY.

OF THE FIRE.—The fire mentioned in yesterday morning's paper, presents some singular features. All the coal oil in the building having caught at once and some of the cans exploding, the fire must have blazed up very suddenly. Everything in the building was badly charred on the outside, and while but very few things were entirely consumed the goods will prove very nearly a total loss. We were unable to ascertain definitely what the loss amounts to, and forbear expressing an opinion upon that subject, as the agent of the Imperial Insurance Company has the matter in hand and will exercise his judgment in regard to it. We are informed that the insurance on the stock of Mr. Friedenrich was $1,000. The building and the one adjoining, both belonging to Mr. Opitz, were insured for $750. The damage to the buildings will not exceed $1,000. The entire loss to Mr. Opitz is about $1,000, his stock being injured to the extent of $150 or $200. Mr. Dubois suffered a small loss from the stealing of some of his furs during the fire. A watch, of the value of $30, was taken from the shoemaker's shop just below, in the excitement of the moment, but may be recovered, as we learn that the fellow who took it is known. We are also requested to state that "he will confer a favor on the owner and do himself credit" by returning the watch, before further proceedings are taken. A large number of men stood near by, on the sidewalk, during the fire and refused to lend a helping hand, though assistance was so much needed and was earnestly demanded by the Marshal and Chief Engineer. Such persons are certainly devoid of that interest in the welfare of their neighbors which is prompted by every generous impulse of our nature.

The family residing in the second story of the building escaped with some difficulty, but suffered no material loss, as the flames were subdued before they had fairly penetrated the upper floor.

In conclusion we must add that our very efficient Fire Department exhibited their usual activity and promptness, and showed themselves as ever the great safeguard of our city against the destroying element. No. 3's boys were first on the ground, got the first water, and had the fire well under control before the others began work.

CIRCUIT COURT—HON. W. W. UPTON JUDGE.—The proceedings yesterday were as follows:

Peterson vs. Berry—continued until next term.

Schirola & Groner vs. Phillippi and Coleman—continued for further argument by counsel.

James Doherty vs. Richard Steadman—judgment for defendant for $66.

O. & R. R. Co. vs. W. G. Scoggins, motion to strike out part of defendant's answer overruled as to the third objection, and sustained as to first, second fourth and fifth, with leave to file amended answer within two weeks.

Oregon Cascade R. R. Co. vs. O. S. N. Co.—motion for new trial overruled.

J. W. Kern vs. A. C. Gibbs et. al.—change of venue to Marion county.

[illegible] Williams vs. E. Poppleton—motion by defendant for new trial overruled.

R. B. Bybee vs. John Lillis et. al.—report of referee affirmed.

Geo. W. Vaughn vs. J. P. O. Lownsdale et. al.—judgment against defendant Geo. P. Wren.

R. G. Breenagh vs. Hiram and Hannah Smith et al.—costs paid and suit dismissed by consent of parties.

J. B. Boydston vs. J. B. Giltner—entry of judgment against plaintiff for costs.

J. M. Ritchey vs. D. Wittenburg—motion to strike out portions of amended complaint sustained and leave given to amend by interlineation.

SURVEYOR'S REPORT.—From the Report of the City Surveyor, submitted at the last meeting of the Common Council, we gather the following statistics in regard to the number of square yards of Nicolson pavement, and the number of lineal feet of plank roadway, sidewalks and plank gutters, laid previous to and since the first day of July, 1869:

[illegible] Pavement—Number of square yards laid prior to July 1st, 1869, 25,277. Since, [illegible] Total, 30,585.

Plank Road—Number of lineal feet laid prior to July 1st, 1869, 8,960. Since, 19,257. Total, [illegible]

Plank Gutters—Number of lineal feet laid prior to July 1st, 1869, 840. Since, 11,200. Total, [illegible]

Sidewalks—Number of lineal feet laid before July 1st 1869, 148,211. Since, 21,783. Total, [illegible]

The number of cubic yards of grading ordered by the city since July 1st, is 44,575. The amount of grading done by private parties in the same time is 21,242 cubic yards. Total amount of grading done in the past six months, 65,769 cubic yards.

A NEW WORK.—Some specimen sheets of a new work by Mrs. Frances Fuller Victor have been placed upon our table, judging from which we [illegible] that a book of rare and peculiar interest, to Oregonians especially. It is entitled "The River of the West," and will contain a history of [illegible] events in the life of that celebrated [illegible] and "man of the mountains," "Old Joe [illegible]" together with the early history of the Pacific Slope, including an account of the [illegible] the Indian tribes, the overland immigration, the Oregon Missions, and the tragic fate of Dr. Whitman and family; also, a description of the country, its condition, prospects and [illegible], its soil, climate, and scenery; its mountains, valleys, deserts and plains; its inland [illegible] and natural wonders. The style of Mrs. Victor is familiar to some of our readers, [illegible] glance at the pages before us lead us [illegible] that the book in question will attract [illegible] as well as instruct all who peruse it.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.—At the regular annual meeting of the Catholic Library and Christian [illegible] Society, held at the library rooms last evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, D. J. Malarky; Vice President, E. Caballin; Recording Secretary, Jos. [illegible]; Treasurer, H. L. Herman; Corresponding Secretary, Hugh McCarthy; Librarian, J. J. Murphy; Assistant Librarian, James Birmingham; Executive Committee, John S. Kast, P. L. Collins, M. Richards.

FEED.—Since the cold weather set in, we notice that the demand for grain and hay for feed has been more active, and supplies have accordingly [illegible]. Yesterday we noticed several loads of hay being brought in from the country, while the [illegible] of oats and chopped feed by the steamboats were quite large, amounting to about 1,[illegible] bushels of the former, and something over [illegible] hundred sacks of the latter. Prices for these [illegible] are very slowly tending to advance.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—DEADY J.—The [illegible] of yesterday were as follows:

[illegible] Holmes vs. T. J. Holmes et al.—Cause [illegible] and day consumed in taking testimony. [illegible] and Logan & Shattuck for complainant, [illegible] and Thayer for defendant.

FLOUR AND WHEAT.—These commodities are [illegible] in increasing quantities from the Willamette valley. The amount brought down [illegible] day from Oregon City was wheat 550 sacks, [illegible] qr. sacks, making a total of 8,078 sacks wheat, and 20,991 sacks flour for the first four days of this week. Much of this has already been or will be shipped to San Francisco and other markets.

SUGAR CURED HAMS.—A competitor for popularity in this market with Cross' celebrated [illegible] cured hams has appeared, and Smith, [illegible] & Co. put up hams which will, doubtless, win great favor, if those we saw yesterday at the store of one of our wholesale grocery firms are fair specimens. They will hereafter be quoted in our market reports.

FELL IN A CISTERN.—At the fire yesterday morning as the suction hose of No. 3 engine was being put into the cistern, one of the men assisting slipped on the frozen ground and fell into the manhole. A bystander caught him just as his person was disappearing below the surface and rescued him from a decidedly damp situation.

DISMISSED.—The four men arrested for creating the disturbance on the Montana, appeared before the Recorder yesterday morning and paid the costs of the entire proceedings, whereupon the counsel for the State dismissed the action against them, and they were discharged.

SCHOOL FUND.—Those parties having warrants on the School Fund of this District can have the same liquidated by presenting them to Mr. Quackenbush at his office on Front street on and after to-morrow, January 8th.

[illegible] BY FIRE.—The total amount of property injured and destroyed by fire during the year 1868 was $18,800. This may be considered small under the circumstances, and speaks well for the efficiency of the Portland Fire Department.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 6.—Everything still remains very quiet in business circles, though there seems to be a little better feeling among merchants in regard to trade. One hundred and thirty three vessels are now known to be on the way to this port, 90 of which are from foreign ports, 15 or 20 are already overdue.

The next steamer for Panama is the Colorado, to sail on the 15th.

Mr. Selleck, Manager of the Bay View Race Course, offers a purse of $10,000 for a trotting race at mile heats, or two and repeat, to come off on the 2d of February, ten horses to enter and five to start or the race will not come off. The purse will be distributed as follows: $5,000 to the first, $2,500 to the second, $1,500 to the third and $1,000 to the fourth.

At noon to-day, a young man named Thomas J. Hurdell was arrested on the charge of forgery. It appears that last Monday, after the sailing of the Arizona for Panama, he went to the house of Mrs. Eliza Bassett, on Clementina street, whose husband is engineer on the Arizona, and presented a sealed package accompanied by a note, which he said were from her husband. The note stated that the package was very valuable, and directed her to keep it till his return and give Hurdell $25 for his trouble. She gave Hurdell the money and afterward discovered she had been deceived, the handwriting being forged and the package containing nothing but a newspaper.

It is reported that the Job Printing establishment of Bosqui & Co. will on Monday take back their old hands at union rates.

Three ships arrived from New York this afternoon: Asa Eldridge, Howe & Co.; Dexter, Moore & Co.; Samuel G. Reed, Dewitt, Kittle & Co.

The ferry steamer Oakland will be put on the ferry line early next week.

STOCKTON, Jan. 4.—S. Klein, a merchant of Ellis Station, who came to Stockton on the 24th ult., and had his license renewed and sent to his partners, has since been missing. He was to have gone to San Francisco on the following day, but through diligent search has been made here and at the metropolis, no information has been obtainable since he mailed the license receipt. It is feared he has been foully dealt with, or has met with accidental death by drowning.

Weather clear and pleasant.

California Railroad Survey.

GRASS VALLEY, Jan. 6.—A party of civil engineers reached this place last evening from Marysville. They surveyed to find a route for the proposed railroad between the two places. The grade is not practicable the way the wagon roads run, but a new route is to be surveyed to-day.

The Union Hill Mine gives a yield for the month of sixteen thousand three hundred dollars. In the bottom of the shaft the ledge is very large and rich.

The Idaho company is sinking a new and large shaft in the richest rock that has ever before been had in the mine.

Weather still too pleasant for hydraulic mining.

Gathering in the Indians—Mining News.

YREKA, Cal. Jan. 6.—The agent for the Klamath reservation, is gathering up all straggling Indians and tribes throughout Southern Oregon and Northern California. Capt. Jack and the Modocs have gone to the reservation, and about 400 Snake Indians have also taken quarters there.

J. A. Maxwell has discovered a gold-bearing quartz ledge near his sawmill, at the head of Shasta valley, which prospected six dollars and sixty cents per ton from the croppings, and at 11 feet down, obtained ten dollars and sixty cents per ton. The lode is eight feet in thickness, and if it increases in richness as he sinks down, it will be one of the best paying ledges in the county. Specimens of quartz from the Oro Fino Quartz Ledge in Scott's valley, have been brought into town which are thoroughly impregnated with fine gold. Their lode, at the depth of sixty feet is thirty inches in width, and although some of the rock has prospected at high as $200 per ton the company think it will average twenty-five dollars per ton, which will prove a fortune to them. A new mining camp has been established on the east fork of Scott River, near Calahan's Ranch, and named Evansville in honor of Mr. Evans, the discoverer of the diggings there, which are said to be rich and equal to '49 prospects in California. As soon as the weather moderates and a good supply of water is furnished big strikes are anticipated in the Evansville diggings. The weather for the past week has been clear and very cold, thermometer standing at 16 degrees above zero for several mornings past. The ground is frozen to the depth of six to eight inches, and frost lies on the ground all day on shady sides of streets.

BY STATE TELEGRAPH.

Fire at Salem.

SALEM, Jan. 5.—Quite a formidable fire broke out this evening in the photograph gallery of S. A. Lobdell, caused by a defective flue. The Fire Department were promptly on the ground and saved the destruction of the property.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

[From the Victoria Colonist.]

The Carter Troupe opened at the Theater Royal December 30, with "Fanchon," played to a good house, and was well received.

Letters from Peace river give details concerning rich discoveries of mining placers on Peace river. One of the letters, dated Quesnelle Mouth, Dec. 8th, says: "Chapman, on his return to Fort St. James, told Ogden his party averaged two ounces to the man, and Mike Byrnes and Vattell reported the same from their party. He had prospected the creek for three miles and always got about the same prospect. The upper end of the creek is more confined and bed rock deeper, and he thinks the pay is better. The Chapman crowd recorded discovery claims on the creek which they worked last summer. But Mike Byrnes refused to record claims on it, and said he had a better creek to work, but he and Vattell are the only ones who know where it is. They refuse to divulge this while Kane's party are there."

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

[From the Olympia Commercial Age, Jan. 1.]

The opening of the New Year is a season of affliction to many families of this city. Mr. F. M. Stocking was taken ill with inflammatory rheumatism some two weeks since, and the disease culminated yesterday morning in his death. The deceased was highly esteemed by all who knew him, and a large circle of friends will sympathise with his grief-stricken family. Hon. Marshall F. Moore, Mrs. Hillary Butler and Richard Lane Esq., are each lying upon sick beds in a critical condition.

Secretary Scott and Auditor Sparks went to Steilacoom yesterday to bid in the government buildings at that place for the Territorial Insane Asylum. Orders were received last evening postponing the sale until the 15th inst.

OREGON.

The Salem Statesman says of the fire on Wednesday: "About four o'clock Mrs. Wilson's building, on State street, took fire from a stove pipe in Mr. Lobdell's Gallery, as we are informed, and soon the roof was on fire in a hundred places. The companies were promptly on the ground, No. 2 getting the first water, and the fire was squelched just in time to save several thousand dollars' worth of property."

At the meeting of the new Council of Salem, the Mayor, Capt. L. S. Scott, was presented an inkstand as a testimonial, and the retiring Marshal, Mr. Wiley Chapman, was presented with a gold pen. After these "amenities," there were oysters, of course.

A contemporary describes Brigham Young, Jr., as "a presentable fellow of middle height, but very heavily built, slow in manner, and altogether bovine in appearance." Bovine is good.

The total cost of all school houses erected within the last year in Ohio, is $1,874,118. The total value of all the school houses and grounds now in the State is $12,162,700.

Government has granted to railroads 185,890,794 acres of public lands, or 290,454 square miles—equal to the combined area of Great Britain and France.

MARRIED:

Compliments received.

At the residence of the bride's father, Jan. 6, 1870, by Rev. G. H. Atkinson, Mr. William H. McMullin and Miss Sarah E. Holsapple, all of Portland.

A clergyman said in a recent sermon that the path to rectitude had been traveled so little of late years but it was completely run to grass.

THE FIRST HEBREW BENEVOLENT SOCIETY of Portland, Oregon, will hold its regular meeting Sunday, January 9, 1870, at [illegible] o'clock P. M., at the Turn Verein Hall.
ISAAC N. WALTER, Sec'y.

VANDERBILT, STEWART, LAW AND ASTOR are all exceedingly unpopular men in New York. No poor man cares for them, but the poor as well as the rich man of Portland, cares for Barman Bros., because they sell their Clothing so cheap, at the Odd Fellows Temple, First Street.

BOYS' CLOTHING.—Another addition to the already large stock of Boys Clothing was received by Kohn & Fishel. They are really handsome and all custom made. There is nothing more appropriate or more serviceable for a Christmas gift to a boy, than one of these handsome suits. Kohn & Fishel's stock of clothing cannot be surpassed. An examination of their stock will convince all that their stock is the best and at the lowest prices.

THE STOCK BOOKS of the Puget Sound Homestead Association are open for subscriptions and the Stock is being rapidly taken. Persons desiring Stock have only to apply to the Secretary at No. 5 Washington street, or to Mr. Wm. G. Conklin, Canvassing Agent for the Association. The Association have purchased 2,514 acres of land, located at so many important points on the Sound that some of them must be at or near the terminus of the great Northern Pacific Railroad, in which event they would also at immediately become of almost fabulous value. This is divided into three hundred shares at $100 per share, payable in monthly installments of $5 per month. Each shareholder has an equal undivided interest in all the lands. The terms are so easy that persons of limited means may invest money that is sure to increase ten to one hundred fold within three or four years.

Let not Prejudice usurp your Reason.

It is a fact that, in the minds of many persons, a prejudice exists against what are called patent medicines; but why should this prevent your resorting to an article that has such an array of testimony to support it as HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS? Physicians prescribe it; why should you discard it? Judges, usually considered men of talent, have used and do use it in their families; why should you reject it? Let not your prejudice usurp your reason to the everlasting injury of your health. If you are sick and require a medicine, try these Bitters.

When the bodily energies are worn out by anxiety and need a stimulant this is the best that can be taken. It is tempered and modified by hygienic herbs and roots, which prevent it from fevering the blood, and hence it does not produce a more temporary excitement, to be followed by injurious reaction, but communicates a permanent potency to the entire vital organization. Some of its herbal constituents are slightly soporific, so that in cases where sleeplessness are one of the accompaniments of nervous disease, a dose of it taken towards bedtime will tend to produce quiet and refreshing slumber. For palpitation of the heart, tremors, hysterics, fainting fits, general restlessness and the causeless fears and distressing fancies to which ladies are especially subject, under certain morbid condition of mind and body peculiar to their sex, the Bitters will be found the most agreeable and certain of all counter-irritants.

The constitutionally nervous may readily keep their infirmity in constant check by the daily use of this healthful vegetable tonic, and those who have "shattered their nerves," as the phrase is, either by imprudent indulgence or undue physical or intellectual labor, will find in this vitalizing elixir a prompt restorative.

The Triumphs of Grant's Administration.

The New York Herald, remarking upon the proceedings in Congress the other day, regarding repudiation says:

We say that this is a great and glorious victory of General Grant's financial policy, as the administrative head of the government it is his work, and to him belongs the honor, in cutting down expenditures, in saving the revenues, and increasing the receipts of the Treasury, in unearthing frauds, in suppressing abuses, in heading off and smashing up the gold gambling bull rings of Wall street, in applying the surplus Treasury funds on hand to the reduction of the national debt, and in the financial facts, figures and policy laid down in his annual message, General Grant has shown that at the rate which the debt is being paid it can be absolutely wiped out during the present generation, interest and principal, to the last farthing, and with a lightening of our general burden of taxes as we go on. All this, too, within the first nine months of his administration, and amidst the noise and confusion of house cleaning, painting and scrubbing and putting in a new lot of servants, &c. "If such things come in the green tree, what shall we have in the dry?"

What? we may well ask, when since last March, we may say, we have had a resolution in the Democratic party on this great question of the national debt. Or, suppose we go back to the last annual message of President Andy Johnson to Congress, in which he recommended the setting apart the interest of the national debt as a fund for the payment of the principal, installments, of the coupons. Why did Johnson make that proposition? Because he knew that the Democratic party to a very great extent, and the Republican party to some extent, were leaning toward repudiation. Mr. Johnson, moreover, had been so completely occupied in fighting for the constitution, "the constitution of our fathers"—God bless us! as if that constitution had not gone down with its corner stone of negro slavery—that he had no time, and but little inclination, we fear, to look after the immediate interests of the Treasury. What were the consequences? Plunderings of the Treasury, deficiences, defalcations and frauds of all sorts on whiskey, tobacco, dry goods, groceries, jobs, contracts, assessments, collections, reports and returns of all descriptions and on every side. From the robberies and the losses of the government thus resulting from leagues of outside rogues and rings of inside confederates, it was made manifest that our heavy load of taxes would be barely sufficient to meet current expenses and that the debt could never be paid. Under this idea it came to be generally believed that the leaders of the Democratic party were quietly cultivating the ultimatum of repudiation, and with the hope that by the year 1872 the Treasury, the currency and the public opinion of the country would become sufficiently demoralized for the proclamation of the sponge as the only remedy for our mountain of debt and its attending taxes, oppressions, spoliations and widespread corruptions.

This was the chaos to which General Grant was invited last March. His first task was the cleaning of the Augean stables, and he has proved a veritable Hercule in the work. He has done wonders as a practical financier. He has shown that the debt can be paid, will be paid, and is being paid off at a rate which no man dreamed of twelve months ago; and he has secured the capitulation of the Democratic party on this great question. This is a great thing, and will immensely facilitate the work of paying off the debt. Mungen has thus removed an ugly shadow which stood like a grinning skeleton before the national credit. This great advance, too, having been made in the name of the Democratic party, we are prepared for other forward movements in its behalf in view of the defunct party dogmas of 1860, and the fixed facts of the new order of things under Grant's administration. Well said, brave old Galileo. The world does move.

One of the last attempts to bring ridicule upon Mrs. H. B. Stowe on account of her Byron article, is an elaborate paper entitled "The True Story of Mrs. Shakespeare's Life." The writer proceeds to sketch the position of the "unhappy but devoted wife" who has yet to be heard; then glances at the lapse of Mr. Shakespeare "into the depths of secret criminal homicide," and with some ingenuity culls a variety of passages from the plays in in which remorse and self-accusation are expressed. The parallel with the Byron article is kept up. "Many women," says the satirist, "would have been utterly crushed by such a disclosure; some would have fled from him immediately, and exposed and denounced the crime. Mrs. Shakespeare did neither. She would neither leave her husband nor betray him; nor would she for one moment justify his sin, and hence came thirty-two years of convulsive struggle, in which sometimes for a time the good angel appeared to gain ground, and then the evil one returned with seven-fold vehemence. His eldest daughter, Susannah, for whom his preference is so plainly shown in his will, became the partner of his guilt." The revelation is made by Mrs. Harriet B. Cheerstow, one of the pilgrim mothers, who, before quitting her native land, was sent for by Mrs. Shakespeare, and intrusted with the secret.

During the past week considerable activity has been manifested in trade circles, and business of all kinds shows evident recuperation from the usual lull of the last week of the year. Although our retail trade is not decidedly active, a better condition of things exist than did for a week or two previous.

Advices from Europe, the Atlantic States, China, Australia, South America and California are of a character to show that there is a wide market for all the breadstuffs we shall have to spare. The proportions of the exports in progress is the best proof on this point.

Wheat is beginning to arrive in much larger quantities and the tendency of prices is to decided firmness. Some 4,000 sacks choice milling have been brought down the river and the rates are quick at 70@75 cents per bushel.

The receipts of flour during the week have been unusually large, especially from the Upper Wallamet, the total amount by the boats for the week will not fall short of 30,000 sacks.

Of oats, the supply for the past few days, has been steadily increasing, still the demand for shipment, as in the case of flour and wheat, has kept prices well up to our last figure and firm.

Fruit is duller, no transactions of importance have transpired, but the news from the California market in regard to this article has not been encouraging to the growers or dealers in Oregon. Dried apples are quoted lower, in our own market, while peaches remain as last week. Green fruit, except apples, is mostly out of season and scarce.

Large receipts of mess pork, bacon and lard are noticed, and rates are fully up to the well founded expectations of producers.

The weather during the week has been dry and cold, the Columbia and Wallamet rivers are receding and the fact that boats no longer run on the former, above the Dalles, will naturally check to some extent, the shipment of large freights in that direction until a rise takes place. In the meantime the exports to California, South America and the Sandwich Islands are steadily increasing.

Groceries are no higher, and some few articles are noted as dull at the rates we give below. Sugar, salt and syrups are in good supply, and retailers find themselves obliged to sell with a small margin.

Seasonable dry goods appear to be inactive, but few changes are noted, though dealers generally being anxious to make room for spring stocks, are giving customers a fair chance for bargains.

HIRAM SMITH'S

Ophthalmic Panacea!

IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE MOST WONDERFUL EYE HEALER that has yet been discovered.

It CURES the most stubborn and hopeless cases of CHRONIC INFLAMMATIONS, GRANULATED LIDS, FILMS, &c., as has been sufficiently demonstrated during the few months in which it has been brought into public notice. The proprietor is so fully convinced of its INFALIBILITY that he WARRANTS A CURE OR REFUNDS THE MONEY. It can do the eyes no harm, and a trial of it is therefore without injury or expense to the patient if a cure is not effected.

It has cured cases of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN, and even EIGHTEEN YEARS' standing in Harrisburg, Linn county, Oregon, and its vicinity, to which the following persons will bear witness:

E. B. MOORE,	NATHANIEL BELL,
A. L. WALLACE,	G. R. WARD,
Mrs. MONTGOMERY,	JOHN M. HOLLOWAY,
W. D. PORTER,	ROB'T RAMSEY,

And others in that vicinity.

Persons afflicted with the distressing scourge of diseased eyes are advised to give this remedy a fair trial on the NO CURE, NO PAY and NO INJURY plan.

We say that this is a great and glorious vic[tory] of General Grant's financial policy as the administrative head of the government. It is his work, and to him belongs the honor in cutting down expenditures, in saving the [revenues] and increasing the receipts of the Treasury, in unearthing frauds, in suppressing [illegible] in heading off and smashing up the gold gambling bull rings of Wall street, in applying the surplus Treasury funds on hand to the reduction of the national debt, and in the financial facts, figures and policy laid down in his annual message. General Grant has shown that at the rate at which the debt is being paid it can be absolutely wiped out during the present generation, interest and principal, to the last farthing, and with a lightening of our general burden of taxes as we go on. All this, too, within the first nine months of his administration, and amidst the noise and confusion of house cleaning, painting and scrubbing and putting in a new lot of servants, &c. If such things come in the green tree what shall we have in the dry?

What? we may well ask, when since last March we may say we have had a resolution in the Democratic party on this great question of the national debt. Or suppose we go back to the last annual message of President Andy Johnson to Congress, in which he recommended the setting apart the interest of the national debt as a fund for the payment of the principal installments of the coupons. Why did Johnson make that proposition? Because he knew that the Democratic party to a very great extent and the Republican party to some extent, were leaning toward repudiation. Mr Johnson, moreover, had been so completely occupied in fighting for the constitution, "the constitution of our fathers"—God bless us! as if that constitution had not gone down with its corner stone of negro slavery—that he had no time and but little inclination, we fear, to look after the immediate interests of the Treasury. What were the consequences? Plunderings of the Treasury, deficiences, defalcations and frauds of all sorts on whiskey, tobacco, dry goods, groceries, jobs, contracts, assessments, collections, reports and returns of all descriptions and on every side. From the robberies and the losses of the government thus resulting from leagues of outside rogues and rings of inside confederates it was made manifest that our heavy load of taxes would be barely sufficient to meet current expenses and that the debt could never be paid. Under this idea it came to be generally believed that the leaders of the Democratic party were quietly cultivating the ultimatum of repudiation, and with the hope that by the year 1872 the Treasury, the currency and the public opinion of the country would become sufficiently demoralized for the proclamation of the sponge as the only remedy for our mountain of debt and its attending taxes, oppressions, spoliations and widespread corruptions.

This was the chaos to which General Grant was invited last March. His first task was the cleaning of the Augean stables, and he has proved a veritable Hercules in the work. He has done wonders as a practical financier. He has shown that the debt can be paid, will be paid, and is being paid off at a rate which no man dreamed of twelve months ago; and he has secured the capitulation of the Democratic party on this great question. This is a great thing, and will immensely facilitate the work of paying off the debt. Mungen has thus removed an ugly shadow which stood like a grinning skeleton before the national credit. This great advance, too, having been made in the name of the Democratic party, we are prepared for other fresh advancements in its behalf in view of the defunct party dogmas of 1860, and the fixed facts of the new order of things under Grant's administration. Well said, brave old Galileo. The world does move.

One of the [illegible] attempts to bring ridicule upon Mrs. H. B. Stowe on account of her Byron article, is an elaborate paper entitled "The True Story of Mrs. Shakespeare's Life." The writer proceeds to sketch the position of the "unhappy but devoted wife, who has yet to be heard," then glances at the lapse of Mr. Shakespeare "into the depths of secret criminal homicide," and with some ingenuity culls a variety of passages from the plays in which remorse and self-accusation are expressed. The parallel with the Byron article is kept up. "Many women," says the satirist, "would have been utterly crushed by such a disclosure, some would have fled from him immediately, and exposed and denounced the crime. Mrs. Shakespeare did neither. She would neither leave her husband nor betray him, nor would she for one moment justify his sin, and hence came thirty-two years of convulsive struggle, in which sometimes for a time the good angel appeared to gain ground, and then the evil one returned with seven-fold vehemence. His eldest daughter, Susannah, for whom his preference is so plainly shown in his will, became the partner of his guilt." The revelation is made by Mrs. Harriet B. Chepstow, one of the pilgrim mothers who, before quitting her native land, was sent for by Mrs. Shakespeare, and intrusted with the sequel.

During the past week considerable activity has been manifested in trade circles, and business of all kinds shows evident recuperation from the usual lull of the last month of the year. Although our retail trade is not decidedly active, a better condition of things exist than did for a week [illegible].

Advices from Europe, the Atlantic States, China, Australia, South America and California are of a character to show that there is a wide market for all the breadstuffs we shall have to spare. The proportions of the exports in progress is the best proof on this point.

Wheat is beginning to arrive in much larger quantities and the tendency of prices is to decided firmness. Some 4 000 sacks choice milling have been brought down the river and the rates are quick at 70@75 cents per bushel.

The receipts of flour during the week have been unusually large, especially from the Upper Wallamet, the total amount by the boats for the week will not fall short of 30 000 sacks.

Of oats, the supply for the past few days has been steadily increasing, still the demand for shipment, as in the case of flour and wheat has kept prices well up to our last figure and firm.

Fruit is duller; no transactions of importance have transpired, but the news from the California market in regard to this article has not been encouraging to the growers or dealers in Oregon. Dried apples are quoted lower in our own market, while peaches remain as last week. Green fruit, except apples, is mostly out of season and scarce.

Large receipts of mess pork, bacon and lard are noticed, and rates are fully up to the well founded expectations of producers.

The weather during the week has been dry and cold, the Columbia and Wallamet rivers are receding and the fact that boats no longer run on the former above the Dalles, will naturally check to some extent, the shipment of large freights in that direction until a rise takes place. In the meantime the exports to California, South America and the Sandwich Islands are steadily increasing.

Groceries are no higher, and some few articles are noted as dull at the rates we give below. Sugar, salt and syrups are in good supply and retailers find themselves obliged to sell with a small margin.

Seasonable dry goods appear to be inactive, but few changes are noted, though dealers generally being anxious to make room for spring stocks, are giving customers a fair chance for bargains.

RUNAWAYS.—Horses, if well fed, are generally very inclined to go after being taken out of the stable in such weather as we are now having This was demonstrated in two instances on the streets yesterday. In the forenoon, a horse attached to a grocery wagon, started on First street near Morrison, and after making the length of several blocks at about a 2 40 gait, suddenly lost his equilibrium and fell upon the frozen ground. He scattered blessings in the shape of groceries and vegetables along his track, while his owner followed on foot, scattering words on the wind

Late in the afternoon, as the elegant span of iron grey bays, belonging to Mr Taylor of the livery stables, were standing on Morrison street near Front, being held by a man seated in the buggy to which they were attached, a drayman driving by, cracked his whip and the bays made a sudden jump, throwing their driver out of the buggy. They started up Morrison street, making magnificent time for a block or two, when one of them fell, and the other having disengaged from the buggy kept on his headlong way up the street The one that fell soon gathered himself up and turned back in the direction whence he came, carrying the buggy with him till he reached the corner of First and Morrison streets, where he ran against an awning post. Knocking this loose, he upset the buggy, and leaving it, lying bottom upwards on the street, the flying, frightened fleet foot, flew furiously from the fractured vehicle for his fodder, at the corner of First and Salmon, where he at last brought up in good order. It is described by those who witnessed it as being the "spiritedest" runaway of the season. Gentlemen should keep a sharp lookout and a tight rein on their firey steeds this cold, bracing weather

Map of the Public Surveys of the Territory of Washington, sketch of the Public Surveys of Michigan and Wisconsin. A map of the United States and Territories, showing the extent of the Public Surveys and other details constructed from the plats and official sources at the General Land Office. They are also getting up township and section maps of the several counties in Oregon, with the names of donation claimants marked on each tract These last named maps show the localities where government lands can still be found, and will constitute a very convenient source from which to obtain information in regard to vacant lands in our State

FROM VANCOUVER —The District Court at Vancouver has been occupied the most of the past week in hearing the testimony and arguments in the case of the Territory vs Lewis Van Vleet, T M Coffey Alex Coffey and J T Lovelace These parties were indicted for assaulting T J Fletcher with intent to kill several months ago On Thursday the case was finally submitted to the jury, who returned a verdict of "guilty" as to T M Coffey and "not guilty" as to the other three defendants We learn that a strong effort will be made on behalf of the defendant convicted to obtain a new trial

A WORD OF CAUTION We have been told more than once in the past few days of a certain class of boys in this city over whom their parents do not keep that watchfulness which would prove salutary for the welfare of the boys They have lately been guilty of some depredations which may yet cost them some trouble, unless they behave themselves much better than heretofore The police are watching them very closely and will not allow these acts of lawlessness to be repeated without an expose of the matter before the Recorder

COUNTY COURT —In the County Court yesterday, the only proceedings were as follows

In the matter of the estate of Buel G Clark deceased J H. Hayden appointed administrator and bonds fixed at $1,200 Sylvester Pennoyer D Lower and Henry Young were appointed appraisers of said estate

Adjourned until Monday next

SLIPPERY —Owing to the heavy frosts, some of the plank roadways leading to down the city wharves, have become excessively slippery Yesterday afternoon we saw a fine horse attached to a hack, as he came up from the O S. N Co's wharf fall and he was unable to regain his footing until extricated from the harness and aided by persons who were near A load of sawdust sprinkled on these slippery places, might save from some serious accident to teams

WILL MEET TO DAY —The Democratic State Central Committee will meet in this city in the room over the Oro Fino saloon on Stark street at two o clock this afternoon to make arrangements for the coming State election We believe the Committee will appoint the time and place and decide on the manner of holding the State Convention for their party We noticed several of the committeemen in town yesterday

TAKEN SOUTH —Charley Starr, who has been serving out a term in the jail of this county for some petty crime, and was also under bonds to answer a charge of "assault and battery with intent to kill," in one of the Courts South was yesterday taken from the county jail here and delivered over to Deputy Sheriff Thompson, of Lane county, who will turn him over to the Courts for trial on the last named charge

COMMENT UNNECESSARY —A cotemporary tells a falsehood and repeats it and then chuckles over the fact that another paper was mislead by it The reliable character of the journal alluded to, will by such devices, be very soon established

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE

Rev Horatio Stebbins it is understood, has declined the call to the Church of the Unity Boston

The N Y Sun says that the Superior of the Dominican Fathers of New York was formerly a Methodist class-leader

There is a great degree of religious interest in Cincinnati Rev E P Hammond is addressing throngs There has been no general revival in that city for thirty years

On the occasion of the union of the two Presbyterian Churches a motion to raise one million dollars as a thank offering was amended to read five million and afterward adopted

Mr T N Westrupp the active agent of the American Bible Society has embraced the religious views of the Baptists, and has translated what is known as the New Hampshire Articles of Faith into Spanish and sent them to Boston to be printed. Several more Protestant congregations in the central part of the Republic, together with the body of students in a Protestant seminary have become Baptists

A Reformed'' correspondent from Boston says "The prevailing disease here among ministers is liberality on the brain It is thought a smart and prudent thing with some to say funny things about deacons, ridicule ancient orthodoxy appear very liberal and embrace all creeds talk piteously of the heathen at our own doors and slur the efforts for missionary expansion advertise subjects for sermons—in fact resort to various measures to draw and please the crowd

The Rev Mr Ewer whose anti Protestantism is well known, is out against reading the Bible in schools Hear his reasons The Catholic churchman holds that the Bible is the rule of faith to the Church and not to the individual And it is a serious question whether this reading the Bible without note or explanation does not foster unconsciously in the minds of the rising generation that spirit of individual interpretation of Scripture which strikes at the very foundation of churchmanship—indeed, of Christianity"

There is nothing more pleasing to Son and Parent than a neat fitting and good set of clothing The place such are to be found is at Kohn & Fishel's No 91 Front street Their suits are all custom made Their stock of clothing is the largest in the city, and will be sold lower than ever the next two months to make room for their extensive Spring stock soon to arrive

Let not Prejudice usurp your Reason.

It is a fact that, in the minds of many persons, a prejudice exists against what are called patent medicines; but why should this prevent your resorting to an article that has such an array of testimony to support it as HOSTETTER S STOMACH BITTERS? Physicians prescribe it, why should you discard it? Judges usually considered men of talent, have used and do use it in their families, why should you reject it? Let not your prejudice usurp your reason to the everlasting injury of your health If you are sick and require a medicine try these Bitters

When the bodily energies are worn out by anxiety and need a stimulant this is the best that can be taken It is tempered and modified by hygienic herbs and roots which prevent it from fevering the blood and hence it does not produce a mere temporary excitement to be followed by injurious reaction but communicates a permanent potency to the entire vital organization Some of its herbal constituents are slightly soporific so that in cases where sleeplessness are one of the accompaniments of nervous disease, a dose of it taken towards bedtime will tend to produce quiet and refreshing slumber For palpitation of the heart tremors hysterics, fainting fits general restlessness and the causeless fears and distressing fancies to which ladies are especially subject under certain morbid condition of mind and body peculiar to their sex the Bitters will be found the most agreeable and certain of all counter irritants

The constitutionally nervous may readily keep their infirmity in constant check by the daily use of this healthful vegetable tonic and those who have shattered their nerves as the phrase is either by imprudent indulgence or undue physical or intellectual labor will find in this vitalizing elixir a prompt restorative

Astoria.

Extract from a letter of the lady correspondent of the New York Tribune—Mrs. L. G. Calhoun—dated San Francisco, September 29th:

"I have said that the headmost horseman was alone. He it was, the undaunted host of us all, who wandered solitary up and down the ship, devising impossible remedies for the rest, and planning sorties of waiters, who beset our doors, offering every mitigation of our state, from toast to raisins. If thoughtfulness and sympathetic distress were an antidote, he would have cured us all, and had the voyage lasted one day longer (in which case the rest of us had not,) I am convinced that he would himself have fallen ill, in the spirit of that prince of courtesy, who, being unable to help his tipsy friend out of the gutter, lay down beside him to keep him in countenance. But toward dusk of Sunday, a pallid and tottering group, hollow-eyed and gaunt of limb, crept one by one on deck, to find the ship far over the bar and sliding into Astoria. Astoria impressed me as the first town that ever was built, the world itself seeming quite a new and starting place, into which I had been suddenly projected for the first time. But if the crowd on the wharf which had rushed down to see Colfax—and was really the civilest and quietest of crowds—and the passengers moving about the ship and the crew collecting freight, and the very houses, and church-steeples, and gravestones, had not been so dreadfully noisy and confusing, I think it would have looked like a little white village, tree-shaded and sheltered by hills, and on the shore of that magnificent Columbia, twelve miles wide, such a lake of a river just there; but so lonely and remote that so much of commerce, trade, material activities, a whirling and reckless world, as was represented by our great ship, must make incongruity as grotesque as if the Invincible Armada should suddenly appear in the stream. It was time for the evening service, and Colfax and the other two who were able to totter so far went to communion in a little bar-room, whose flickering lamps shone on the pewter plate and tankard around which the few communicants gathered. But perhaps the vastness and loneliness and purity were better than cathedral organ and costly silver. At least they were more like the earliest and holiest Supper of all.

We lay at the wharf over night, for there are dangerous shallows above Astoria which may not be tempted in the darkness and at low water, but when we came on deck next morning we were far up stream. The shores are bold and wooded, often grand, and it was infinite comfort to see the close, green pines, with scarlet maple and pale gold cottonwood pricking through, and, best of all, tiny drifts of clouds. Sometimes men were logging upon the very crests of the high hills; sometimes a single log house stood in a clearing—but for the most part it was as silent and wild as if we were the first voyagers. We were so worn that we wanted only to reach the shore and rest, when Mount St. Helen's came into our day and gladdened it, and made us content with its beauty. I cannot imagine that there is in the world, again, so noble and sweet and satisfying a mountain. But we left it for awhile to sail up the Wallamet and find Portland, a city worthy to live in the same country with St. Helen's.

Handsome Compliment to Senator Williams.

Here is what the Chicago Tribune says of Senator Williams eulogy upon Fessenden:

Judge Williams, formerly of Iowa, now of Oregon, one of the most sturdy and spendid natures in Congress, made a speech scarcely so soft and delicate as Morrill's, but, as the emanation of a stronger manhood, even more exhaustive and interesting. He took the delicate sketch of Morrill, and added some vigorous touches, which made the portrait bolder, yet in no whit disturbed its truthfulness. This speech, also, was a surprise to me, who, from the daily work of Williams, had no reason to suspect such a literary development in him. When he remarked that Fessenden was "so careful not to do wrong that sometimes he seemed afraid to do right," hesitated in the gentlest, yet truest, way, what, perhaps, was a weakness in his subject; and this extract was a fine contribution to memorial biography:

"There was no parade, pomposity, or tinsel about his speeches. French was his aversion, and in my hearing he never made a Latin, or poetical quotation. Greece and Rome he left with his college exercises, in the classic shades of Bowdoin. Plain, simple and unaffected in manner and habit, so he was in speech, and his style was as pure and transparent as the water of a New England brook."

Here is a pargraph showing a noble nature in Williams, as in Fessenden:

"I was a member of two committees of which he was Chairman, and once only did his anger break out in hasty words toward me. Believing that a friend should bear his friend's infirmities,' I did not notice the matter; but in a few moments he came and in the kindest and most apologetical manner expressed his deep regret."

You cannot take to your fireside a speech from the Latin or Saxon more worthy of the utterer and the theme than this of Williams. Its appearance in the Globe is an answer to all objections against printing the full debates of Congress; for the nation of men to whom they both belonged could not afford to lot such timely and cotemporaneous literature perish. The defects of the speech are the flourish at the bottom of it and some o'er violent similes.

Ohio School Statistics.—It appears from the forthcoming report of the State School Superintendent, the total number of separate school sub-districts in the State is 9,668; joint, 1,070. Total, 10,738. Ungraded schools, 10,723; graded, 533; High, 196; German and English, 55; colored, 204. Total, 11,700. This is 38 less than last year. The number of colored schools is increased 15; High schools, 41. The decrease is amongst the graded and ungraded schools. Gallia county has sixteen colored schools—the most of any county in the State; Hamilton has twelve; Hamilton and Licking lead in the number of high schools, each having eight. Clinton, Delaware, Meigs, Miami, Monroe, Paulding, Pike, Preble, Putnam, Union and Wyandot have no high schools.—Cincinnati Gazette Dec. 29.

Mrs. Dr. L. S. Batchelder stated in a lecture delivered in Boston on Saturday evening, that there are now engaged in that city 2,000 young women who are paid fifty cents a night, half nude, in low amusement balls, with a gratuity of ten cents for each new customer whom they induce to patronize their employers.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

PORTLAND, Jan. 7, 1870.

Latest New York gold quotations, 120¾.

Legal Tender rates in San Francisco, 82½@83c.

Portland Legal Tender rates, 82½ buying, 83 selling.

The following San Francisco dispatch was received at 8 o'clock this evening, and shows the inclination of gold in New York and Legal Tenders in San Francisco:

Gold has an upward tendency, closing at 121⅞,—an advance of 1⅛ cents since yesterday.

Sterling remains 108¾@109¼.

Legal Tenders weak at 82 buying, 83 selling.

Government 5-20's quoted in New York to-day at 114@118⅜ for 1862 and 1867.

California wheat at New York $1 40@1 45, and Liverpool 9s 4d@9s 5d.

Flour—Good demand and market shows upward tendency. We quote superfine, in sks 100 lbs, at $4 37½@4 62½, extra, in sks, $5 25@5 50.

Wheat—sks fair milling $1 40; 1,000 sks Santa Clara $1 62½ ₩ 100 lbs.

Barley—500 sks within the range of $1 15@1 25 ₩ 100 lbs.

Oats—400 sks fair at $1 30, 150 sks choice at $1 50, 2,000 sks do $1 50. At the close 650 sks fair at $1 32½ ₩ 100 lbs.

There is some activity incited here by the large shipments of produce by the steam and sailing vessels now in port, otherwise trade may be quoted as dull to-day.

The receipts of flour from the valley amount to 3,100 sacks. Of wheat but a limited amount was received, while oats were in better supply.

During the past few days quite a number of dressed hogs have reached this market, mostly consigned to dealers here for local consumption, though some still continue to arrive for packers.

Over 1,600 tons of freight will leave here for San Francisco and other ports by the Montana, Gussie Telfair, Whittier and Champion, all of these vessels being up to sail to-morrow.

No important change in rates is noticed. Butter and eggs for home use are more in demand, bacon is dull; fruit unchanged and slow sale.

Retailers have done comparatively but little business to-day.

HIRAM SMITH'S

Ophthalmic Panacea!

IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE MOST WONDERFUL EYE HEALER that has yet been discovered.

It CURES the most stubborn and hopeless cases of CHRONIC INFLAMMATIONS, GRANULATED LIDS, FILMS, &c., as has been sufficiently demonstrated during the few months in which it had been brought into public notice. The proprietor is so fully convinced of its INFALLIBILITY that he WARRANTS A CURE OR REFUNDS THE MONEY. It can do the eyes no harm, and a trial of it is therefore without injury or expense to the patient if a cure is not effected.

It has cured cases of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN, and even EIGHTEEN YEARS' standing in Harrisburg, Linn county, Oregon, and its vicinity, to which the following persons will bear witness:

E. B. MOORE,	NATHANIEL BELL,
A. L. WALLACE,	G. B. WARD,
Mrs. MONTGOMERY,	JOHN M. HOLLOWAY,
W. D. PORTER,	ROB'T RAMSEY,

And others in that vicinity.

Persons afflicted with the distressing scourge of diseased eyes are advised to give this remedy a fair trial on the NO CURE, NO PAY and NO INJURY plan.

DAIRY ITEM.—From the Advocate we learn that Mr. Humphrey, who keeps a dairy, two miles ... of this city, made, during the year 1869, ... nine cows, 2,375 pounds of butter, for which he received $1,088 92, and sold milk, etc., ... the value of $132, making the proceeds from ... cows $1,270 92.

WILL SAIL TO-DAY.—The two ocean steamers, Montana for San Francisco, and the Gussie Telfair for Victoria, will sail from this port to-day—the former with a fair cargo, at 4 o'clock P. M., the latter well loaded, at the same hour.

The two sailing vessels, the bark Whistler for San Francisco and the little schooner Champion for Tillamook, will also take their departure hence to-day.

The Alaska will start from some point down the Columbia, for Honolulu.

The A. Heaton will probably set sail from Astoria to-day for Montevideo, South America.

FROM VANCOUVER.—The District Court at Vancouver has been occupied the most of the past week, in hearing the testimony and arguments in the case of the Territory vs Lewis Van Vleet, T. M. Coffey, Alex. Coffey and J. T. Lovelace. These parties were indicted for assaulting T. J. Fletcher with intent to kill, several months ago. On Thursday the case was finally submitted to the jury, who returned a verdict of "guilty" as to T. M. Coffey and "not guilty" as to the other three defendants. We learn that a strong effort will be made on behalf of the defendant convicted to obtain a new trial.

A WORD OF CAUTION.—We have been told more than once in the past few days of a certain class of boys in this city over whom their parents do not keep that watchfulness which would prove salutary for the welfare of the boys. They have lately been guilty of some depredations which may yet cost them some trouble, unless they be have themselves much better than heretofore. The police are watching them very closely and will not allow these acts of lawlessness to be repeated without an expose of the matter before the Recorder.

COUNTY COURT.—In the County Court yesterday, the only proceedings were as follows:

In the matter of the estate of Buel G. Clark, deceased, J. H. Hayden appointed administrator and bonds fixed at $1,200; Sylvester Pennoyer, D. Lower and Henry Young were appointed appraisers of said estate.

The Board of Commissioners met at one o'clock in the afternoon, and spent the remainder of the day auditing various claims against the county.

Adjourned until Monday next.

RELIG...

Rev. Horatio ... declined the call to the Church of the Unity, Boston.

The N. Y. Sun says that the Superior of the Dominican Fathers of New York was formerly a Methodist class-leader.

There is a great degree of religious interest in Cincinnati. Rev. E. P. Hammond is addressing throngs. There has been no general revival in that city for thirty years.

On the occasion of the union of the two Presbyterian Churches, a motion to raise one million dollars as a thank offering was amended to read five million, and afterward adopted.

Mr. T. N. Westrupp, the active agent of the American Bible Society, has embraced the religious views of the Baptists, and has translated what is known as the New Hampshire Articles of Faith into Spanish, and sent them to Boston to be printed. Several more Protestant congregations in the central part of the Republic, together with the body of students in a Protestant seminary, have become Baptists.

A "Reformed" correspondent from Boston says: "The prevailing disease here among ministers is, 'liberality on the brain.' It is thought a smart and prudent thing with some to say funny things about deacons, ridicule ancient orthodoxy, appear very liberal, and embrace all creeds, talk piteously of the heathen at our own doors and slur the efforts for missionary expansion, advertise subjects for sermons—in fact, resort to various measures to draw and please the crowd."

The Rev. Mr. Ewer, whose anti-Protestantism is well known, is out against reading the Bible in schools. Hear his reasons: "The Catholic churchman holds that the Bible is the rule of faith to the Church, and not to the individual. And it is a serious question whether this reading the Bible, without note or explanation, does not foster unconsciously in the minds of the rising generation that spirit of individual interpretation of Scripture which strikes at the very foundation of churchmanship—indeed, of Christianity."

There is nothing more pleasing to Son and Parent than a neat fitting and good suit of clothing. The place such are to be found is at Kohn & Fishel's, No 91 Front street. Their suits are all custom made. Their stock of clothing is the largest in the city, and will be sold lower than over the next two months to make room for their extensive Spring stock soon to arrive.

ST. HELEN'S HALL—VACATION EXTENDED.—On account of unexpected delay in removing and enlarging the school building of St Helen's Hall, the Christmas vacation will be extended to Wednesday morning, January 12th. There will be no service in St. Stephen's Chapel until Sunday the 16th.

ADVICE, IF YOU WISH TO BUY A GOOD SUIT OF CLOTHING, TAKE A FRIEND'S ADVICE AND BUY THEM AT DAR MANN BROS, ODD FELLOW'S TEMPLE, FIRST STREET Portland.

THE FIRST HEBREW BENEVOLENT SOCIETY of Portland, Oregon, will hold its regular meeting Sunday, January 9, 1870, at 1½ o'clock P. M., at the Turn Verein Hall.

ISAAC N. WALTER, Sec'y.

THE STOCK BOOKS of the Puget Sound Homestead Association are open for subscriptions and the Stock is being rapidly taken. Persons desiring Stock have only to apply to the Secretary at No. 6 Washington street, or to Mr. Wm. G. Conklin, Canvassing Agent for the Association. The Association have purchased 2,314 acres of land, located at so many important points on the Sound that some of them must be at or near the terminus of the great Northern Pacific Railroad, in which event they would almost immediately become of almost incalculable value. This is divided into three hundred shares at $1.00 per share, payable in monthly installments of $5 per month. Each shareholder has an equal undivided interest in all the lands. The terms are so easy that persons of limited means may invest money that is sure to increase ten to one hundred fold within three or four years.

Portland Turn Verein.—A special meeting will be held this evening, Jan. 8th, at 7½ o'clock.
By order of the President.

RUNAWAYS.—Horses, if well fed, are generally inclined to go after being taken out of the stable in such weather as we are now having. This was demonstrated in two instances on the [illegible] yesterday. In the forenoon, a horse attached to a grocery wagon, started on First street, near Morrison, and after making the length of several blocks at about a 2 40 gait, sud [illegible] lost his equilibrium and fell upon the frozen ground. FROM VANCOUVER.—The District Court at Vancouver has been occupied the most of the past week in hearing the testimony and arguments in the case of the Territory vs Lewis Van Vleet T M Coffey Alex Coffey and J T Lovelace These parties were indicted for assaulting T J Fletcher with intent to kill several months ago On Thursday the case was finally submitted to the jury who returned a verdict of guilty as to T M Coffey and "not guilty" as to the other three defendants We learn that a strong effort will be made on behalf of the defendant convicted to obtain a new trial

A WORD OF CAUTION.—We have been told more than once in the past few days of a certain class of boys in this city over whom their parents do not keep that watchfulness which would prove salutary for the welfare of the boys They have lately been guilty of some depredations which may yet cost them some trouble, unless they behave themselves much better than heretofore The police are watching them very closely and will not allow these acts of lawlessness to be repeated without an expose of the matter before the Recorder

In the matter of the estate of Ben. G Clark deceased J H Hayden appointed administrator and bonds fixed at $1,200 Sylvester Pennoyer D Lower and Henry Young were appointed appraisers of said estate

Adjourned until Monday next

SLIPPERY.—Owing to the heavy frosts, some of the plank roadways leading to down the city wharves, have become excessively slippery Yesterday afternoon we saw a fine horse attached to a hack, as he came up from the O. COMMENT UNNECESSARY.—A cotemporary tells a falsehood and repeats it, and then chuckles over the fact that another paper was mislead by it The reliable character of the journal alluded to, will by such devices, be very soon established

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE

Rev Horatio Stebbins, it is understood, has declined the call to the Church of the Unity Boston

The N Y Sun says that the Superior of the Dominican Fathers of New York was formerly a Methodist class-leader

There is a great degree of religious interest in Cincinnati Rev E P Hammond is addressing throngs There has been no general revival in that city for thirty years

On the occasion of the union of the two Presbyterian Churches a motion to raise one million dollars as a thank offering was amended to read five million and afterward adopted

Mr T N Westrupp, the active agent of the American Bible Society has embraced the religious views of the Baptists, and has translated what is known as the New Hampshire Articles of Faith into Spanish, and sent them to Boston to be printed. Several more Protestant congregations in the central part of the Republic together with the body of students in a Protestant seminary have become Baptists

A "Reformed" correspondent from Boston says "The prevailing disease here among ministers is 'liberality on the brain' It is thought a smart and prudent thing with some to say funny things about deacons, ridicule ancient orthodoxy appear very liberal and embrace all creeds talk piteously of the heathen at our own doors and slur the efforts for missionary expansion advertise subjects for sermons—in fact resort to various measures to draw and please the crowd

The Rev Mr Ewer whose anti Protestantism is well known, is out against reading the Bible in schools Hear his reasons "The Catholic churchman holds that the Bible is the rule of faith to the Church and not to the individual And it is a serious question whether this reading the Bible without note or explanation does not foster unconsciously in the minds of the rising generation that spirit of individual interpretation of Scripture which strikes at the very foundation of churchmanship—indeed of Christianity

There is nothing more pleasing to Son and Parent than a neat fitting and good suit of clothing The place such are to be found is at Kohn & Fishel's No 91 Front street Their suits are all custom made Their stock of clothing is the largest in the city, and will be sold lower than ever the next two months to make room for their extensive Spring stock soon to arrive

Let not Prejudice usurp your Reason.

It is a fact that, in the minds of many persons, a prejudice exists against what are called patent medicines; but why should this prevent your resorting to an article that has such an array of testimony to support it as HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS? Physicians prescribe it, why should you discard it? Judges usually considered men of talent have used and do use it in their families; why should you reject it? Let not your prejudice usurp your reason to the everlasting injury of your health If you are sick and require a medicine try these Bitters

When the bodily energies are worn out by anxiety and need a stimulant this is the best that can be taken It is tempered and modified by hygienic herbs and roots which prevent it from fevering the blood and hence it does not produce a mere temporary excitement to be followed by injurious reaction but communicates a permanent potancy to the entire vital organization Some of its herbal constituents are slightly soporific so that in cases where sleeplessness are one of the accompaniments of nervous disease, a dose of it taken towards bedtime will tend to produce quiet and refreshing slumber For palpitation of the heart tremors hysterics fainting fits general restlessness and the causeless fears and distressing fancies to which ladies are especially subject under certain morbid condition of mind and body peculiar to their sex, the Bitters will be found the most agreeable and certain of all counter-irritants

The constitutionally nervous may readily keep their infirmity in constant check by the daily use of this healthful vegetable tonic and those who have shattered their nerves as the phrase is either by imprudent indulgence or undue physical or intellectual labor will find in this revitalizing elixir a prompt restorative

Astoria.

Extract from a letter of the daily correspondent of the New York Independent Mrs. L. G. Calhoun dated San Francisco September 4th

I have said that the healthiest horseman was alone. He it was the undaunted host of us all who wandered solitary up and down the ship devising impossible remedies for the rest and planning sorties of waiters who beset our doors offering every mitigation of our state from roast pig to raisins. If thoughtfulness and sympathetic distress were an antidote he would have cured us all and had the voyage lasted one day longer (in which case the rest of us had not) I am convinced that he would himself have fallen ill in the spirit of that prince of courtesy who, being unable to help his tipsy friend out of the gutter lay down beside him to keep him in countenance. But toward dusk of Sunday a pallid and tottering group hollow eyed and gaunt of limb crept one by one on deck to find the ship far over the bar and sliding into Astoria. Astoria impressed me as the first town that ever was built the world itself seeming quite a new and starting place into which I had been suddenly projected for the first time. But if the crowd on the wharf which had rushed down to see Colfax—and was really the civilest and quietest of crowds—and the passengers moving about the ship and the crew collecting freight and the very houses, and church steeples and gravestones had not been so dreadfully noisy and confusing, I think it would have looked like a little white village, tree shaded and sheltered by hills, and on the shore of that magnificent Columbia twelve miles wide, such a lake of a river just there, but so lonely and remote that so much of commerce, trade, material activities, a whirling and reckless world, as was represented by our great ship, must make incongruity as grotesque as if the Invincible Armada should suddenly appear in the stream. It was time for the evening service, and Colfax and the other two who were able to totter so far went to communion in a little bar room whose flickering lamps shone on the pewter plate and tankard around which the few communicants gathered. But perhaps the vastness and loneliness and purity were better than cathedral organ and costly silver. At least they were more like the earliest and holiest Supper of all.

We lay at the wharf overnight, for there are dangerous shallows above Astoria which may not be tempted in the darkness and at low water, but when we came on deck next morning we were far up stream. The shores are bold and wooded, often grand, and it was infinite comfort to see the close, green pines, with scarlet maple and pale gold cottonwood pricking through and, best of all, tiny drifts of clouds. Sometimes men were logging upon the very crests of the high hills sometimes a single log house stood in a clearing—but for the most part it was as silent and wild as if we were the first voyagers. We were so worn that we wanted only to reach the shore and rest, when Mount St. Helen's came into our day and gladdened it, and made us content with its beauty. I cannot imagine that there is in the world again, so noble and sweet and satisfying a mountain. But we left it for awhile to sail up the Wallamet and find Portland, a city worthy to live in the same country with St Helen's.

Handsome Compliment to Senator Williams

Here is what the Chicago Tribune says of Senator Williams eulogy upon Fessenden:

Judge Williams, formerly of Iowa, now of Oregon, one of the most sturdy and splendid natures in Congress, made a speech scarcely so soft and delicate as Morrill's, but, as the emanation of a stronger manhood, even more exhaustive and interesting. He took the delicate sketch of Morrill, and added some vigorous touches, which made the portrait bolder, yet in no whit disturbed its truthfulness. This speech, also, was a surprise to me, who, from the daily work of Williams had no reason to suspect such a literary development in him. When he remarked that Fessenden was "so careful not to do wrong that sometimes he seemed afraid to do right," he hinted in the gentlest, yet truest, way what, perhaps, was a weakness in his subject, and this extract was a fine contribution to memorial biography:

"There was no parade, pomposity, or tinsel about his speeches. French was his aversion, and in my hearing he never made a Latin or poetical quotation. Greece and Rome he left with his college exercises, in the classic shades of Bowdoin. Plain, simple and unaffected in manner and habit, so he was in speech, and his style was as pure and transparent as the water of a New England brook."

Here is a paragraph showing a noble nature in Williams, as in Fessenden:

"I was a member of two committees of which he was Chairman, and once only did his anger break out in hasty words toward me. Believing that a 'friend should bear his friend's infirmities,' I did not notice the matter, but in a few moments he came and in the kindest and most apological manner expressed his deep regret."

You cannot take to your fireside a speech from the Latin or Saxon more worthy of the utterer and the theme than this of Williams. Its appearance in the Globe is an answer to all objections against printing the full debates of Congress, for the nation of men to whom they both belonged could not afford to let such timely and cotemporaneous literature [illegible]. The defects of the speech are the flourish at the bottom of it and some other violent similes.

OHIO SCHOOL STATISTICS.—It appears from the forthcoming report of the State School Superintendent, the total number of separate school sub-districts in the State is 9 668 joint 1,070. Total, 10,738. Ungraded schools 10,723, graded, 533, High, 196, German and English, 55, colored, 204 Total, 11 700 This is 88 less than last year. The number of colored schools is increased 15, High schools 41. The decrease is amongst the graded and ungraded schools. Gallia county has fifteen colored schools—the most of any county in the State; Hamilton has twelve. Hamilton and Licking lead in the number of high schools, each having eight. Clinton, Delaware, Meigs, Miami, Monroe, Paulding, Pike, Preble, Putnam, Union and Wyandot have no high schools.—Cincinnati Gazette Dec 22.

Mrs. Dr. L. S. Batchelder stated in a lecture delivered in Boston on Saturday evening, that there are now engaged in that city 2,000 young women who are paid fifty cents a night half nude, in low amusement halls, with a gratuity of ten cents for each new customer whom they induce to patronize their employers.

Flour—Good demand and market shows upward tendency. We quote superfine, in sks 196 lbs at $4 37½@4 62½; extra in sks $5 25@5 50

There is some activity incited here by the large shipments of produce by the steam and sailing vessels now in port; otherwise trade may be quoted as dull to day

The receipts of flour from the valley amount to 3 100 sacks. Of wheat but a limited amount was received while oats were in better supply

During the past few days quite a number of dressed hogs have reached this market mostly consigned to dealers here for local consumption though some still continue to arrive for packers

Over 1 600 tons of freight will leave here for San Francisco and other ports by the Montana Gussie Telfair Whistler and [illegible] all of these vessels being up to sail to-morrow

No important change in rates is noticed. Butter and eggs for table use are more in demand, bacon is dull; fruit unchanged and slow sale

Retailers have done comparatively but little business to-day
